Sunday: Vernaccia Wine and San Gimignano

San Gimignano- Vernaccia wineries

For our Sunday agenda, we will have white wine which will be dedicated to the La Vernaccia Tuscan wine.

Our morning will be spent driving around the countryside of Castelvecchio National Park and San Gimignano. Upon driving, we will get a chance to taste some of the stunning wines and delicious foods that these 2 wineries provide.

Vernaccia di San Gimignano is named as one of the top wines in Tuscany. The Vernaccia-based wine from San Gimignano comes with a long history, and during the Renaissance period, local Vernaccia is famous for being Italy's noblest wine. There's no doubt that its fame has a connection to the region where it all started, San Gimignano. San Gimignano is an ancient town in Tuscany that is famous for its medieval towers, and there's no doubt that it is also popular because of its wine. In Dante's Divine Comedy and San Gimignano's records, it was shown that the Vernaccia wine grape was mentioned in as early as 1276. The name was originally thought to have originated from the word vernaculum meaning "of the place" and is the etymological root for the word "vernacular."

For the afternoon, we will be heading to the gorgeous village of San Gimignano wherein you can have some time to explore the entire town. San Gimignano is well-known for its well preserved medieval architectures and lofty towers where visitors can enjoy a panoramic view of the valley that surrounds it. During its glory days, the patrician families of San Gimignano had built an estimate of 72 tower houses to symbolize its wealth and power. Even though that only 14 are left, San Gimignano still retains its magical appearance and feudal atmosphere.

Finally, we will conclude the day by making a visit at a local Tuscan trattoria where we will be having dinner before heading back to the apartment.

Monday: Morellino and Montecucco wines

Morellino di Scansano and Montecucco Wine

Today is red wine day! We will taste some of the best red Italian wines from Maremma in Tuscany. It's not a surprise that Tuscan red wine is considered one of the best in the world. The winemakers of the region have centuries of experience just to master it. Wine is made here ever since the Etruscan times wherein it was sold all over Europe.

Once breakfast is done, we will start heading to the Maremma Toscana and before passing through the countryside between Montecucco and Montiano wherein, we will stop for a visit in San Gargano. Then, we will keep going to the top 3 best local wineries while tasting some samples of fine wines as we go along our way. These wineries are being run by a local family who has years of experience in producing some of the most sensational Montecucco and Morelino di Scansano wines. We will be having a scrumptious lunch on one of the three local wineries and indulge ourselves with sample traditional foods that came from Maremma.

The tour will end with a visit in Talamone to the coast which is a village that is famous for having some great foods, vibrant nightlife, beautiful landscape, and a tasty gelato. After that, we will stop on the way for a dinner and we will go back to the apartment to rest for the day.

One of the most famous Tuscan wines is Morellino, and the delicious undertones combine the hills from which it hails the fragrances of the sea. The wine is being made around the valleys of Scansano wherein the Sangiovese grapes that are being grown there got the name Morellino which means brown one or little dark. The reason for its name is either because of the color of the grape, or perhaps it boasts a resemblance to the local breed of horses, the Maremmano. According to the chair of the Decanter World Wine Awards, Mr Richard Baudains, wine lovers who want to indulge themselves in the real flavors of Tuscany should find out about these little-known wines of Montecucco. The historic Tuscan DOCs were made in the year 1960 and the very first DOCGs in the year 1980. It was only in 1998 when Montecucco came to be. During that time, the producers' register contained only about 10 names or so and the area nearly had 100 hectares of vineyard. Each of the producers has their story to tell, but the group they formed is cohesive and shares a lot of philosophies. One of their key examples for this one is that they are committed to growing their crops organically and a majority of the top producers in Montecucco practice biodynamic or organic viticulture.

You will be given 2 different choices on how you want to spend the day during your Tuesday tour. Wednesday: Bolgheri and Castagneto Carducci

Bolgheri & Carducci

Once you get a view of this place, you can say that it is one of the most stunning areas in Tuscany. Our day will start with a drive to the village of Bolgheri wherein we will take a side trip to the Bolgheri Castle. After that, we will proceed to the valley through the famous “avenue of cypress trees” to get to the first local winery before continuing along the main road that is connecting Bolgheri and Castagneto Carducci to make a visit to 2 additional wineries. In these 2 wineries, you will have a free sample of their fine wines as well as a visit to their wine cellars.

After having a traditional Tuscan lunch on one of their wineries, we will continue to Castagneto Carducci to visit the village before heading back to the apartment.

In Bolgheri, you will see one of the most prestigious vineyard areas in all of Italy. The winemaking zone of the area consists of a sloping coastal vineyard at the bottom of the hills between the town of Bolgheri and the southern part of Castagneto. It has a proximity location to the Tyrrhenian Sea and is being described as “the golden oasis of the Maremma.” In the year 1960s, the wine industry in Tuscan needs a bit of a shake-up, and Bolgheri was one of the avant-garde areas that brought the region back to life. The locals employed a tactic to start a new trend of non-DOC wines, and by 1968, a new style of wine was born which was dubbed as the Super Tuscan. The Super Tuscan’s flagship wine is named Sassicaia.

The famous avenue of cypress trees is located in the municipality of Castagneto Carducci and is a 5km stretch of road that links the oratory of San Guido to the village of Bolgheri. The long road is linear and is flanked by 2 rows of 2,540 century-old cypress trees. The road was built in the 18th century wherein it was when officials decided to create perpendicular roads along the Via Regia which will connect the smaller towns in the countryside to Bolgheri. This road has the memorable verse from the poem of Giosuè Carducci entitled Davanti San Guido to thank for its fame. The poet has been a resident here for several years as well. There is a small obelisk at the start of the road which was placed by Giuseppe della Gherardesca in 1908 to commemorate the famous poet.
